The Most Rev. George J. Rehring
Bishop of Toledo

Our Bishop

The Most Reverend George J. Rehring has been our bishop for the last sixteen years. During that time he has administered Confirmation to us as children.

In the past three years he represented our parish in Rome, the site of the Ecumenical Council. He guides us through his letters to our parish.

We owe our gratitude to our Most Reverend Bishop for his many and varied activities, performed as our friendly bishop.

The Reverend Joseph I. Schill
Pastor of St. John's

Our Pastor

Four years ago, when the Reverend Joseph I. Schill came to Delphos, he learned to know most of the present St. John students as his children.

Today, he addresses us as his young ladies and gentlemen. Father Schill has shown us students the real meaning of devotion and prayer. He directs us in the ideals of responsibility, friendship, dedication, and determination.

All the students here at Delphos St. John's owe Father more than the thanks we give him.

St. John's High

Mrs. Joseph Menke, secretary of the St. John's Alumni Association, and Mr. Richard Patton, president, lead the meetings and carry out the motions made during the meeting. As secretary, Mrs. Menke, has compiled all the records of the past fifty years. Their work has been essential to the Golden Jubilee plans.

The Alumni Association has scheduled a two-day event to celebrate the Golden Jubilee of St. John's High School. The festivities will begin Saturday, June 25, with a dance in the gym and in the Little Theater from 9:00 p.m. to 1:00 a.m. A Mass of Thanksgiving will be offered by the alumni Sunday morning.

Invitations have been sent to all priests, religious and lay faculty who have taught at St. John's during the past years, to meet with the alumni at open house on Sunday afternoon. Open house will be followed by the election of the new alumni officers.

Afterwards all in attendance will be invited to a tea in the gym.

Representatives of the classes attend alumni meetings and bring with them suggestions and opinions for the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of St. John's High School.

Our 50th Graduating Class

Four years of high school are almost over; now our graduation is approaching. Each year as commencement time drew near, we have experienced a closer bond with the graduating class. As freshmen and sophomores we watched the seniors with awe. During last year's commencement exercises we were reminded that we would be the next and also the fiftieth graduating class.

Now as our senior year draws to a close, we are preparing for our own graduation. Many events crowd the last couple weeks of our senior year. The arrival of caps and gowns is a sort of climax. Carefully and hopefully we open our boxes, and breathlessly we try our gowns for size. Finally, graduation day will arrive, and we'll solemnly file into the auditorium. No longer shall we be seniors. We will be the graduating class of 1966; alumni of Delphos St. John's.

Faculty

Words cannot express the deep admiration and respect our hearts hold for our five priests and twelve sisters. Our appreciation is also given to the twenty-three lay people who have devoted their time and efforts to help us become mature adults.

For all your efforts we wish to say 'Thank You.'

Our Devoted Principal

Our principal, FATHER ROBERT YEAGER, even though he is new at his job has succeeded in making the business of the school run efficiently and smoothly. As director of athletics and dramatics, Father has put in long and tedious hours leading to their success. Father's ideas, such as hootenannies, have added extra spark to the school year. Father's new administration has seen new regulations, such as the boy's wearing ties which has dressed up the appearance of the students as well as that of the school.

As a priest, Father offers Mass and administers the sacraments. He also acts as counselor and spiritual guide. In many cases he has proved himself as a true friend to the students who have problems or those who just stop at the office to have a short conversation with him.

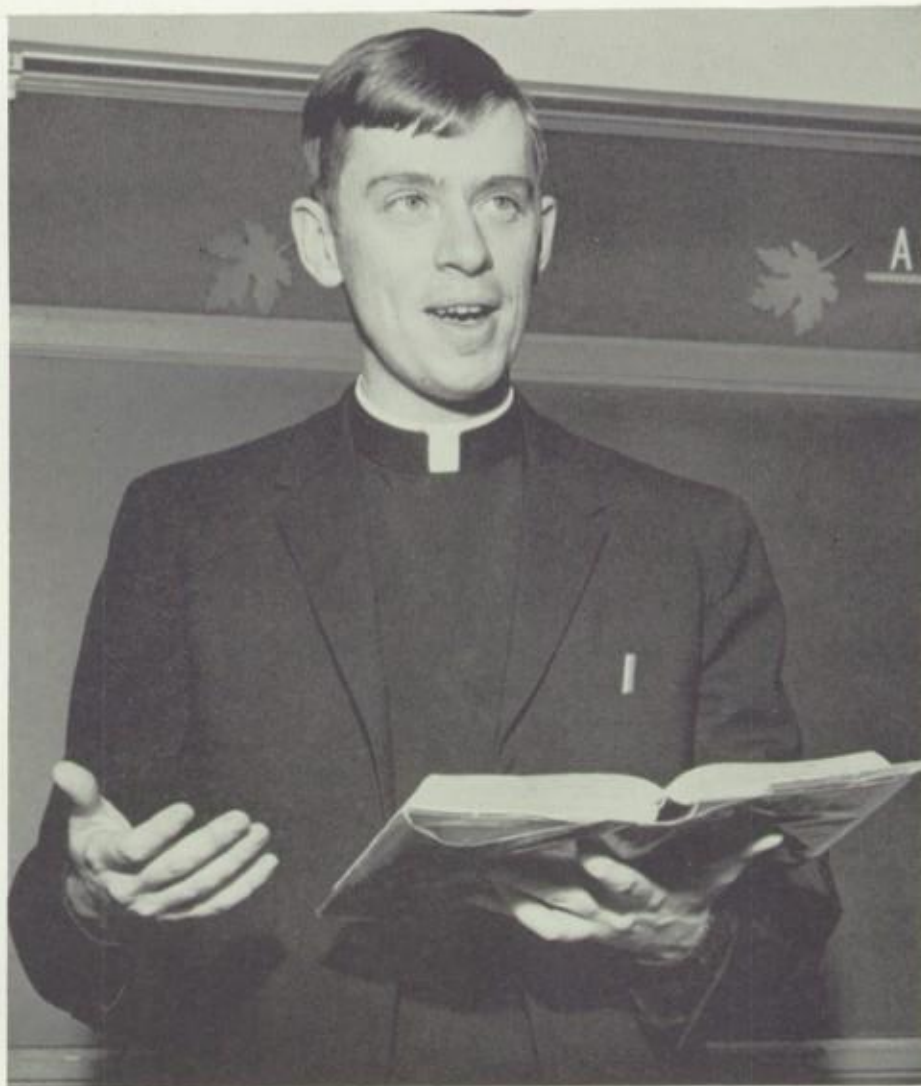

The third major role that Father plays is that of instructor of the senior sociology classes. We, the seniors, would like to salute Father Yeager for a job well done!

Our Priest Faculty

We, the students owe a special thanks to our priest faculty because they contribute to many parts of our life. They play the role of instructor in the classroom. In the role of spiritual guider, they offer Mass and make the sacraments available to us. Finally, they are friends who are willing to help us with our problems.

Father Lawrence Scharf's sense of humor makes it hard for him to be serious while teaching religion three times a week to his sophomore boys.

Father Thomas Gorman rushes to the office on a cold day during the Christmas season for a quick brush-up on his notes and comments for his next junior religion class.

A broad smile typifies Father William Parker's eager-beaver attitude toward being a friend and energetic helper as well as a spiritual advisor to the freshman boys.

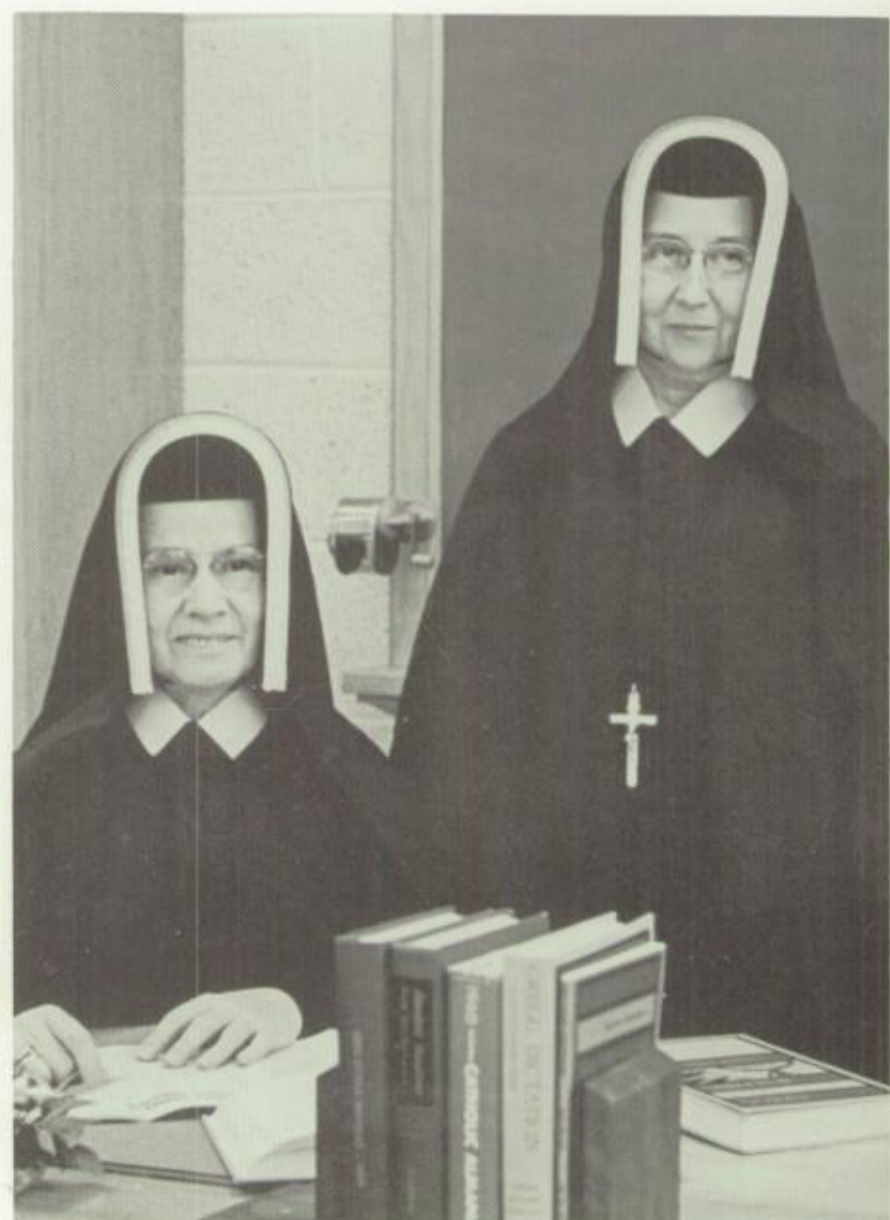

SISTER MARY MARILYN, SISTER MARY ROSELLA and SISTER MARY GREGORY smile approval of the visual-aids and Shakespearean records used in the junior and senior English classes.

SISTER MARY FERDINAND and SISTER MARY LEOTA prepare to supplement their math classes with the use of books, pamphlets, illustrations and models.

Science instructors, SISTER MARY LORENZO and SISTER MARY LADONNA, make use of some of the vast selection of science material and literature found in the library.

SISTER MARY EVENTIA and SISTER MARY HERMAN discuss some of the new trends of the business world as reflected in the magazines and books of their field.

Religious Faculty

SISTER MARY MARILYN: English 3, Journalism, and Adviser of the Crest. SISTER MARY ROSELLA: Mechanical Drawing and English 4. SISTER MARY GREGORY: Home Arts 1, 2, 3, 4, English 4, and Religion 3.

SISTER MARY FERDINAND: Math 5, 4, Geometry and Religion I. SISTER MARY LEOTA: Algebra I, College Preparatory Physics, General Science.

SISTER MARY LORENZO: Biology, General Science and Religion 2. SISTER MARY LADONNA: Chemistry and English I.

SISTER MARY EVENTIA: Typewriting 1, 2 and Shorthand I. SISTER MARY HERMAN: Bookkeeping, Shorthand 2, Office Practice, Record Keeping and Religion I.

SISTER MARY ST. CATHERINE: Latin 2, 3, 4, and French 1. SISTER MARY BERNARDA: English I, Latin I, and Remedial Reading.

Dei Gloria Mariae Honor
With the experienced help of the Notre Dame sisters, who have dealt with the problems of the students of St. John's for the past ninety years, the students of St. John's advance in their knowledge of their surroundings and in their dealings with God.

SISTER MARY ST. CATHERINE and SISTER MARY BERNARDA, proud of the Latin trophy which the department won in last year's Auxilium Latinum Test, discuss the possibility of adding another trophy this year to the collection.

As a very important part of each day, the Sisters assemble in chapel for prayers. Their professional dedication is a two-fold one: to the educational and the spiritual advancement of their students. Their prayers are petitions that the work they do for the students may add to the honor and glory of God.

MR. ROBERT ARNZEN shows his readiness to help through the friendly smile with which he greets each student entering the Dean of Boys Office. Because of his wide experience with boys, Mr. Arnzen is capable of giving shrewd solutions to the problems of youth.

MR. ROBERT ARNZEN:
General Mathematics
Consumer Mathematics
Driver's Education
Dean of Boys
Head Basketball Coach

MR. BASIL ALT:
Guidance Counselor

MR. EDWARD ZALAR:
World Geography
General Business
World History
Consumer Economics
Assistant Football Coach

MR. BASIL ALT as a full time counselor wins the confidence of the students as they seek advice. With his professional assistance, students can plan their future intelligently and wisely.

MR. EDWARD ZALAR fits his position perfectly as he adds his own touch of humor in his world geography class. He instructs the students on the finer points of the earth's topography.

MR. DONALD ALTENBURGER is valued in his knack of teaching American government and ancient history. He shows his athletic ability in his reserve basketball coaching.

Although MR. GEORGE RAFFERTY has been here only one year, he is well liked by the students. They are fond of his way of teaching history and he has proved himself successful as head football coach.

MR. DANIEL RUPERT is one of this year's additions to the staff. Besides being a capable English teacher, he led his Freshman Basketball team to many victories.

Secretary

As head of the music department, Mr. Robert Slattery directs the band's half-time performances, concerts, and contest entries. He also directs the choral group for the Christmas program and the senior class play.

Mrs. A. J. Meyers, girls' athletic director, keeps St. John's girls physically fit with her morning gym classes. Basketball practice and exercises prepare the girls for the annual intramural games.

Mrs. Henry Weisgerber, school secretary, keeps the school's business running smooth and efficiently. Her cheerful smile and pleasant attitude add to the atmosphere in the high school office.

Mrs. Marie Meyers, Mrs. Mary Will, and Miss Emma Metzner, are discussing the various jobs involved in keeping the library books on the shelves. Part of their work involves accessioning books, repairing them as well as checking withdrawals and returns.

Bookkeeper

Mrs. Forrest Hanser's friendly smile can be seen as students pass the bookstore throughout the school day. Here she is as an efficient bookkeeper who keeps the school's books balanced. She also supervises study halls.

'Vo -
Ag'

Mr. Lloyd Smith and Mr. Crunkilton are vocational agriculture teachers and F.F.A. advisers. Mr. Smith teaches seniors and freshmen. The juniors and sophomores have Mr. Crunkilton as their instructor. Both teachers prepare their students for the manual and mathematical sides of farming. Their students learn basic principles, management, recordkeeping, and the repair of machinery on a farm.

Seniors

We the seniors have many highlights of our past year to remember. A few of these include: Our last high school retreat... Production of "Carousel"... The spring formal... The senior outing... and our graduation. We will cherish all the good times we've had together as well as the privilege of being the fiftieth class to graduate from these halls.

Now as we graduate from high school life to adult life, our circle of influence must be widened to include the whole community. Alumni of St. John's — that's the title we bear after May 29. May we all bear it with honor.

Senior Class-President, Russell Suever, with the aid of Class Vice-President, Kathryn Buettner, organize the plans for the upcoming senior dance.

Ready with suggestions are committee members Joyce Holdgreve, Norbert Renner, Carol Pohlman and Ladonna Suever.

Starlit Hollyday became the theme of the dance, carried out in a starlighted, snow-dressed forest where the Cobras provided the music. A crib was set up in honor of the Holy Family.

Academics

Since most of our time in school is spent in the classroom, we are indebted to our teachers for the fine education they have given us. Although we may sometimes consider time in the classroom to be unglamorous and perhaps even frustrating, we must remember that the challenges we meet now help to prepare us for the future.

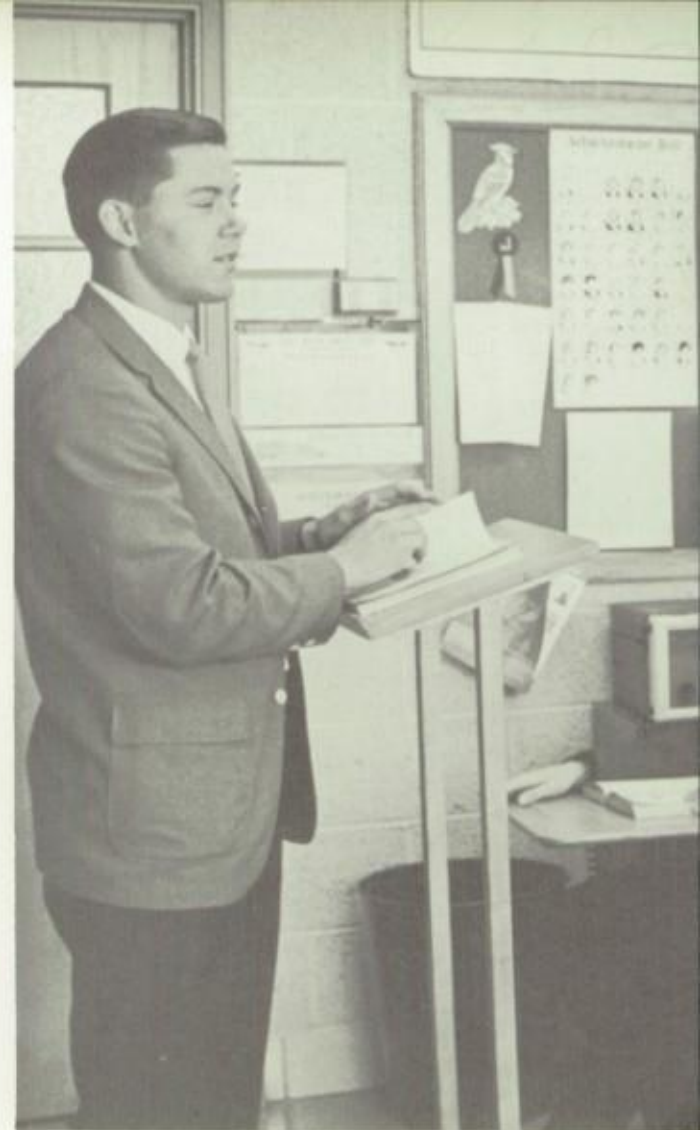

Therefore, we do and learn as much as we can in the present to better our chances for a successful future.

English Classes...

English classes are taught by five sisters and Mr. Daniel Rupert. Senior teachers are Sister Mary Gregory and Sister Mary Rosella; juniors, Sister Mary Marilyn; sophomores, Mr. Rupert; and freshmen, Sister Mary Bernarda and Sister Mary Ladonna.

Mr. Daniel Rupert discusses the prospects of everyone's passing the six weeks' test with Mark Miller, Jeanne Geise, and Laurel Brandehoff of English II.

"Bubble, bubble, toil, and trouble," say Dennis Seffernick, Jane Cramer, and Patricia Cooley as they portray the three witches in Macbeth. Sister Mary Rosella's English IV class read, studied, and portrayed this Shakespearean play during the first semester.

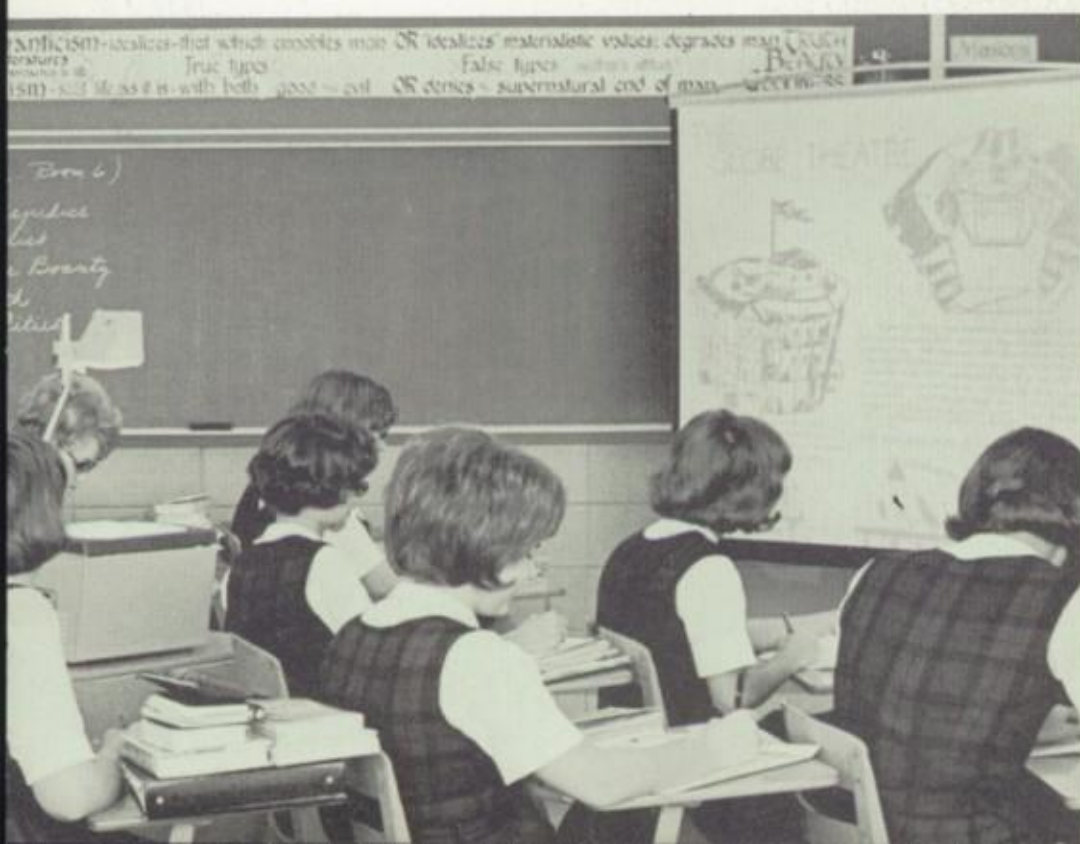

In English I the desire to learn is manifested by (standing) Jean Steyer and Dale Youngpeter and (seated) Diane Harpster and Charles Pohlman as they take notes on the use of the card catalogue.

Members of the English III class take notes on the Globe Theater as they are shown on the screen by the overhead projector.

Karen Hayes talks about a scrapbook put together by the girls' English IV class. The scrapbook contains the plays, costumes, and theater of Shakespeare's era.

Science—Subject Of Experiments, Projects, Observations

St. John's science department includes physics, chemistry, biology, and general science this year. All four include lab periods.

The teachers are Sister Mary Lorenzo, biology; Sister Mary Leota and Sister Mary Lorenzo, general science; Sister Mary Ladonna, chemistry; and Sister Mary Leota, physics.

Junior chemistry students, Kenneth Hoersten and Gilbert Cummings, determine the OH-concentration of Na OH in their experiment.

Studying the difference between leaves is the objective of sophomore biology students, Esther Pohlman, Joseph Myers, Daniel Rode, and Susan Stallkamp.

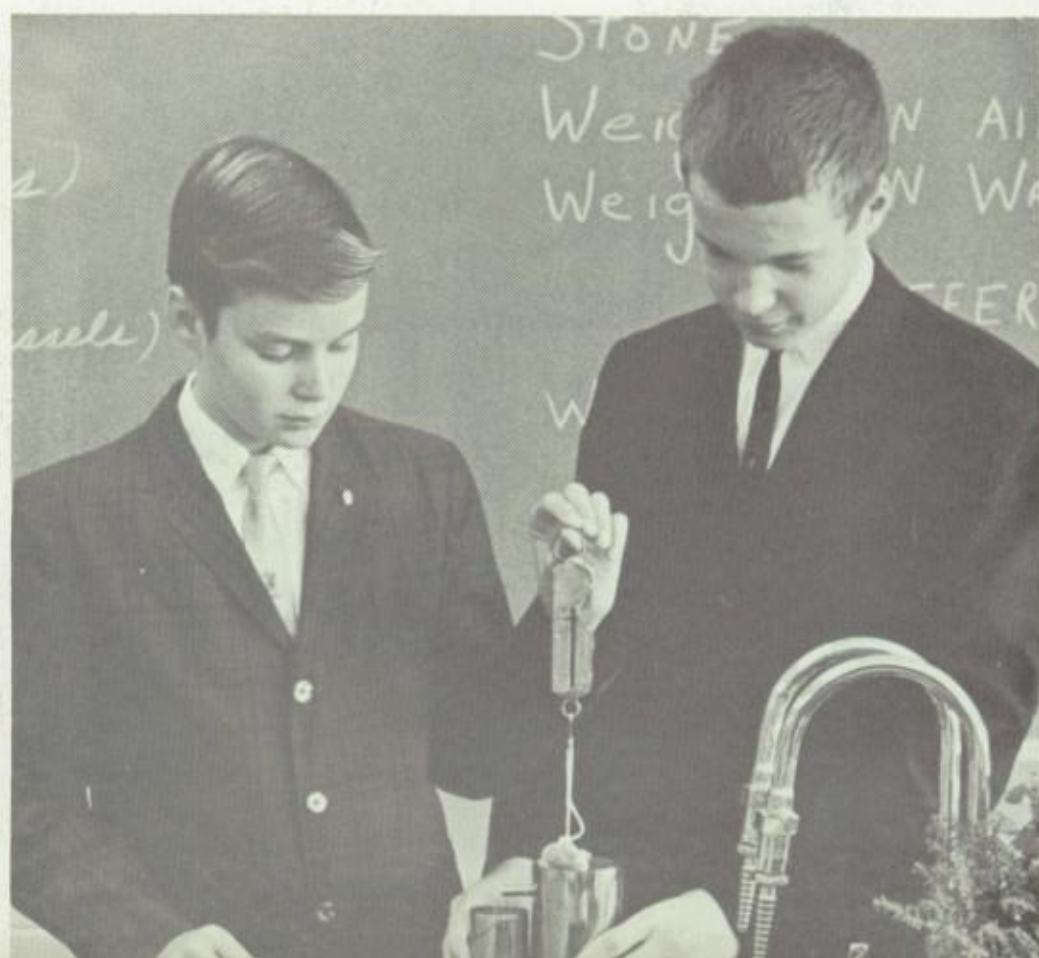

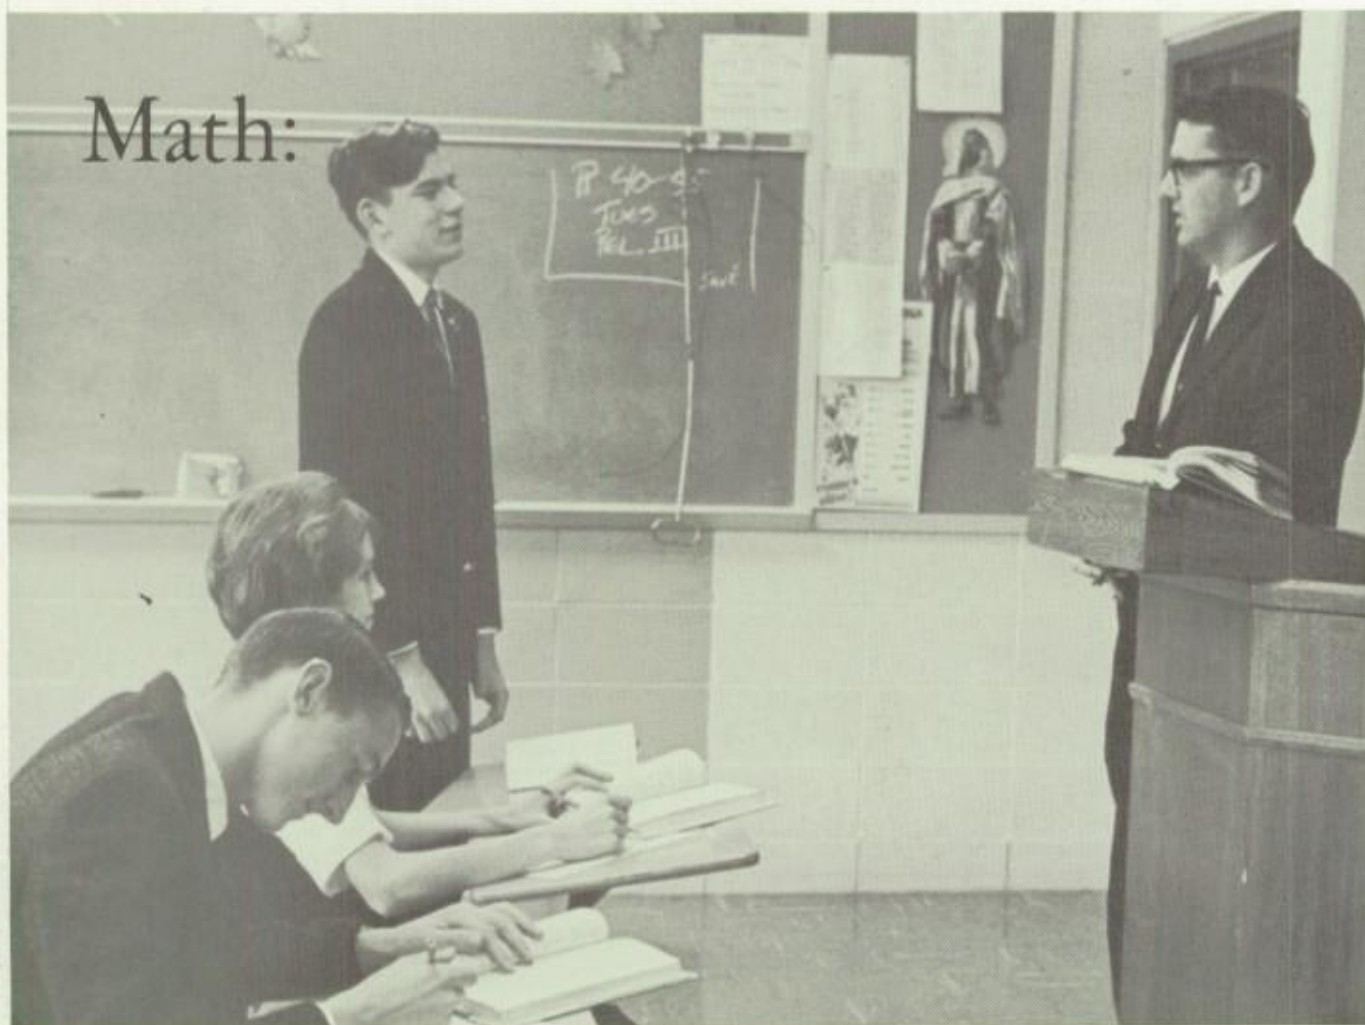

Physics students, Anita Van Schoyck, Frank Baldauf, and Dennis Stemen work in lab to solve momentum conserved in collisions.

General science students, Valerie Best and Theresa Bertling discover that water exerts pressure while, Dennis Hedrick and David Ditto prove that objects weigh less in water than in air.

Math:

Mr. Robert Arnzen discusses the everyday math problems with Robert Trentman. Other general math students listening to the pointers are Jerome Trentman, and Kathleen Wegesin.

While Dennis Seffernick, Richard Fiedler, and Karen Sanders work out consumer math problems, Mr. Robert Arnzen walks the aisles to look for perfectness.

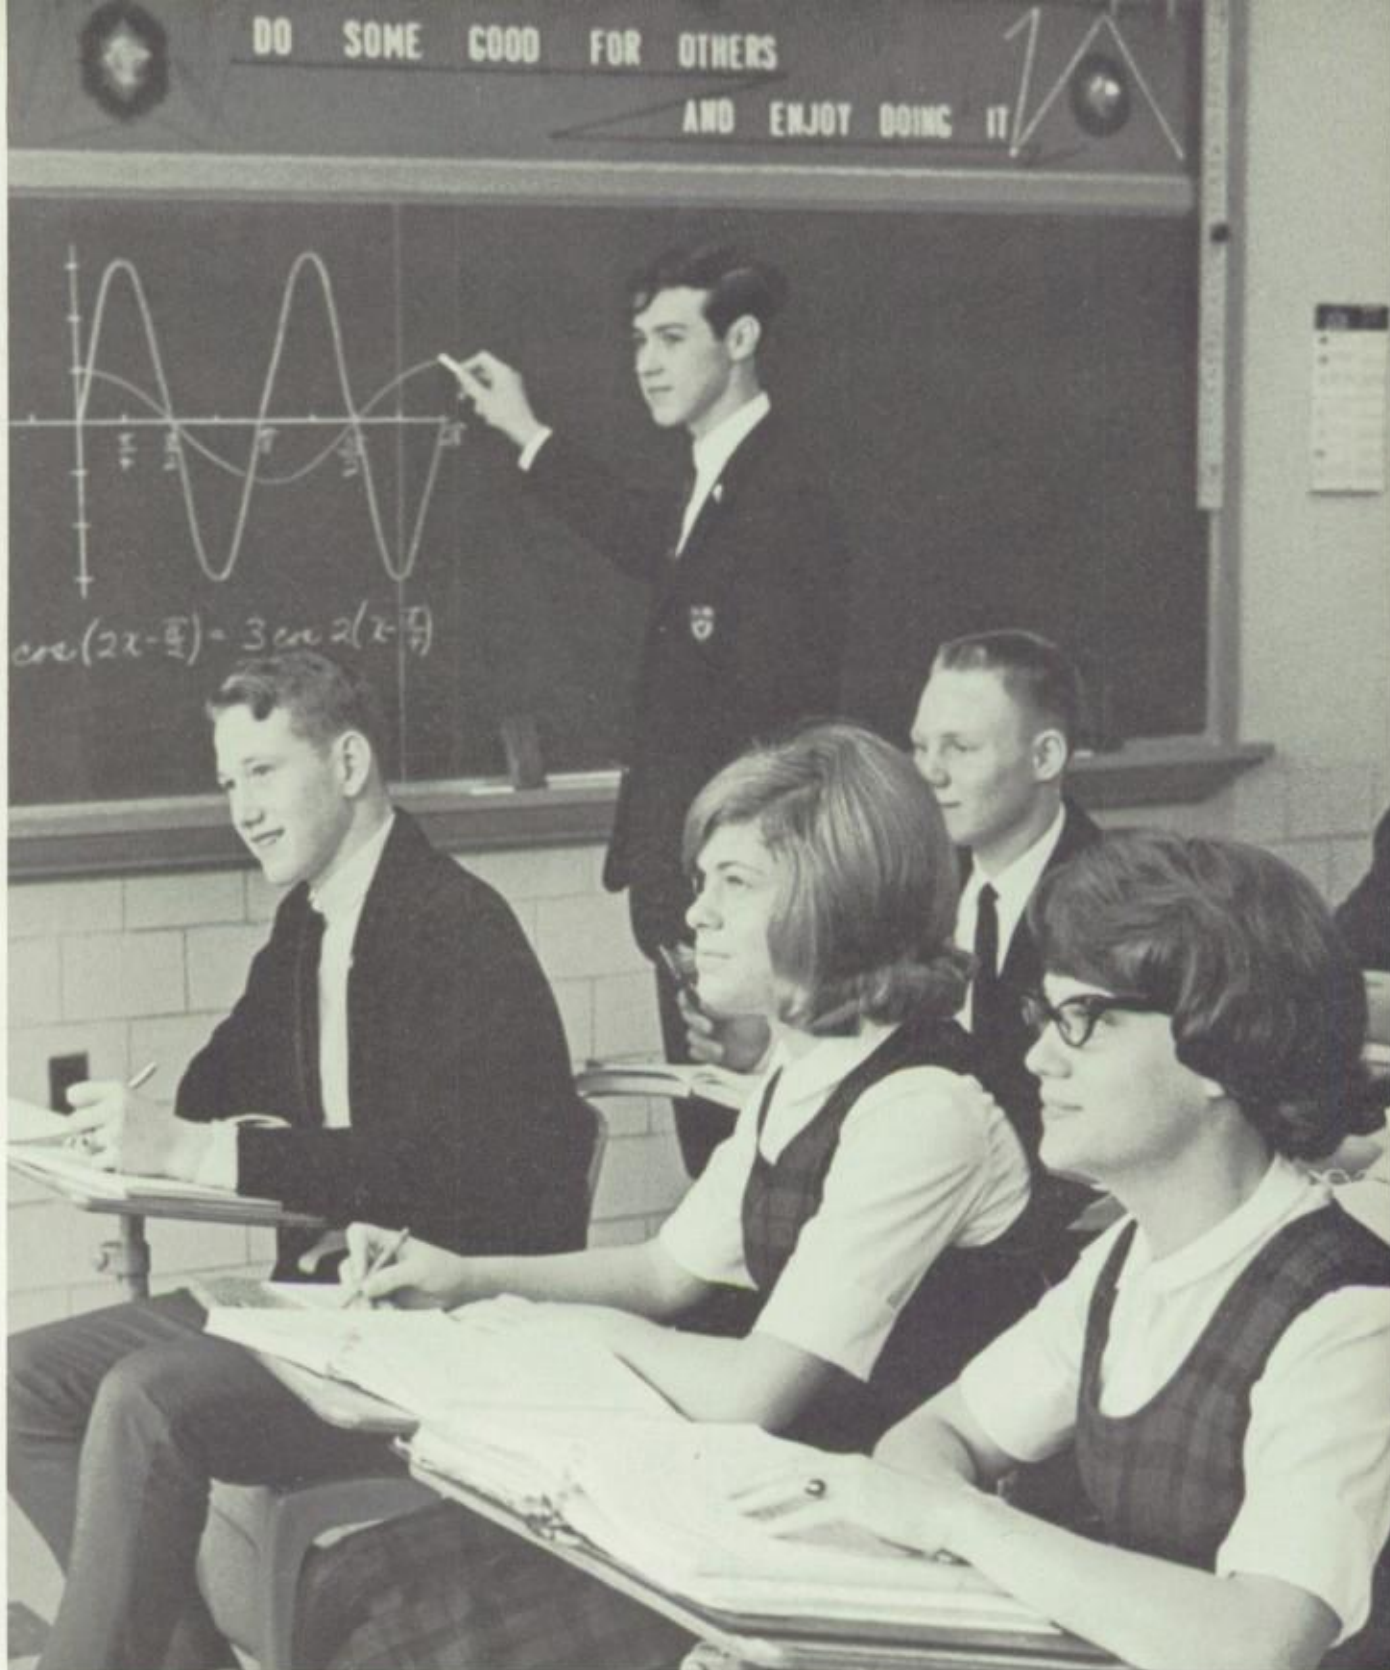

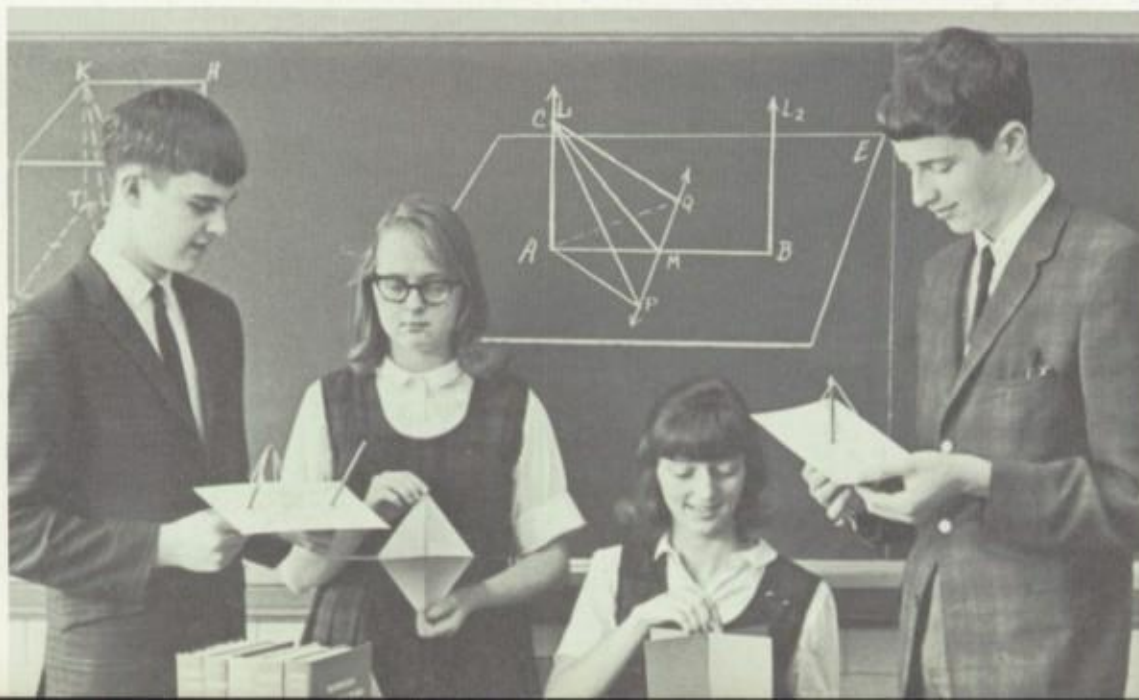

What equals  $n$ ? Jane Schmit and Amelia Pothast look to the members of the algebra class for the answer.

Modern math students John Hempfling and Joan Beckman demonstrate the graphing of equations to traditional math students Linda Hoersten and Charles Brinkman.

Dennis Wannemacher proves a graph in Math IV while Michael Pothast, Kathleen Menke, Frank Baldauf, and Linda Liebrecht follow the study at their desk.

Geometry students, George Beckmann, Linda Freiburger, Susan Heidenescher, and Daniel Hielt discover the problems involved with planes and graphs.

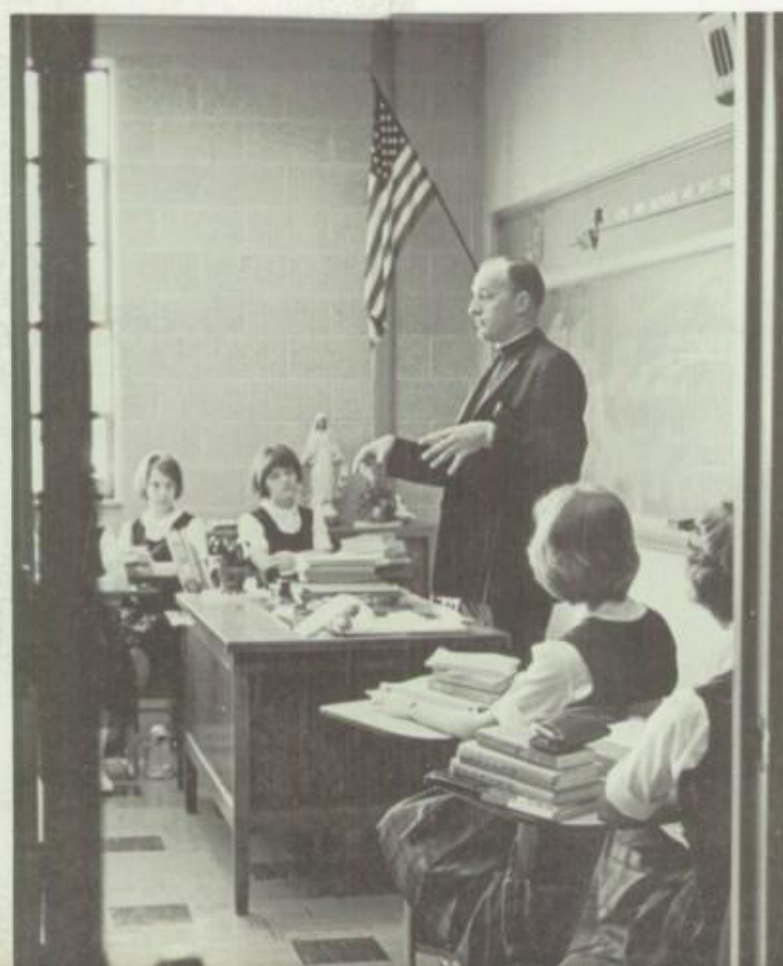

Senior girls sit attentively in sociology to hear Father Yeager's discussion of Matrimony.

Father Gorman dramatically explains the wonders to be found in the human personality. The picture was taken during one of Father's weekly trips to the junior girls' religion group.

Religion...

Priests teach boys religion classes and on Wednesday they instruct the girls classes that are otherwise taught by the Sisters of Notre Dame. The seniors are taught daily by Father Yeager.

Attendance at Holy Mass is obligatory only on Wednesday. On other days, students are encouraged to attend a Mass. In this way each student can show that he is responsible enough to do things on his own.

The following teachers instruct religious classes.

Seniors: Rev. Robert J. Yeager, Principal.

Juniors: Rev. Thomas J. Gorman, and Sister Mary Gregory.

Sophomores: Rev. Lawrence A. Scharf, and Sister Mary Lorenzo.

Father Parker's hands-on-hips position helps to emphasize his point as he waits for an answer in a freshman religion class.

Religion III bulletin board is designed by Mary Kay Schulte, Carol Lauer, and Kay Kaverman with the thought that youth should meet Christ in all their various activities.

Father Scharf checks grades with sophomore boys' Joseph Scherger, Mark Miller and George Beckmann, three members of his religion class.

Languages Are Keys

Vera Kill, Roger Geise, Roselyn Morris, and Jennifer Shirack look to Deborah Klausing for an answer in French I. This is the first time for some years that French has been taught at St. John's. Students who had first-year Spanish last year are taking their second credit at Jefferson High this year.

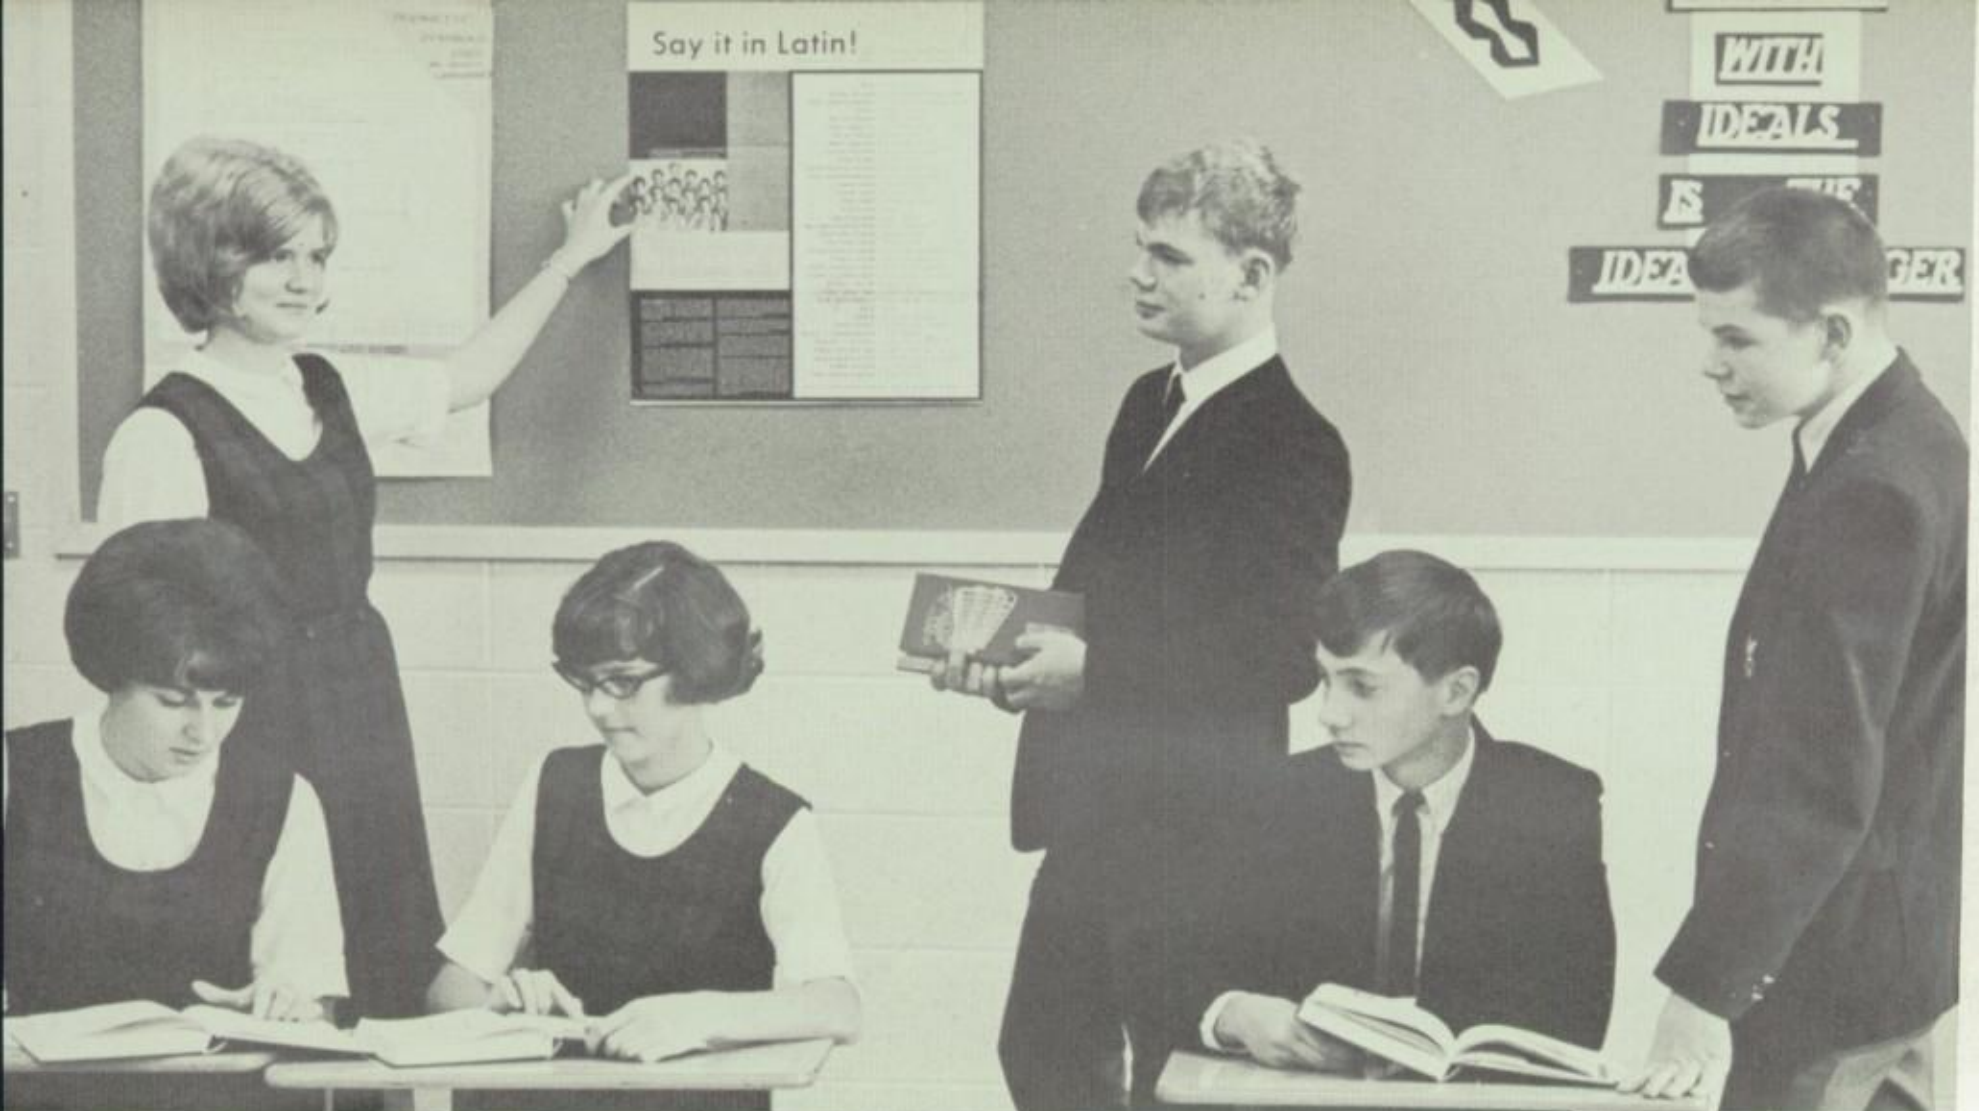

As Daniel Miller operates the tape recorder, Pamela Shenk, and John Grone translate the Latin to English.

Craig McRedmond, Sidney Weber, Craig Reinemeyer, and Dianna Byrne display their first-year Latin projects.

The junior Latin students think that six heads are better than one when it comes to translating a difficult passage. Seated: Katherine Klaus, Cynthia Nartker, and John Wulfhorst. Standing: Diane Jostpille, Andrew Shenk, and Michael Clark.

Joseph Scherger dictates verbs in Latin II, as Kathleen Grothaus conjugates them. The members of the class look and learn by the examples in this exercise.

History – Knowledge

Members of the American history class concentrate on Judith Metcalfe's explanation of the western expansion.

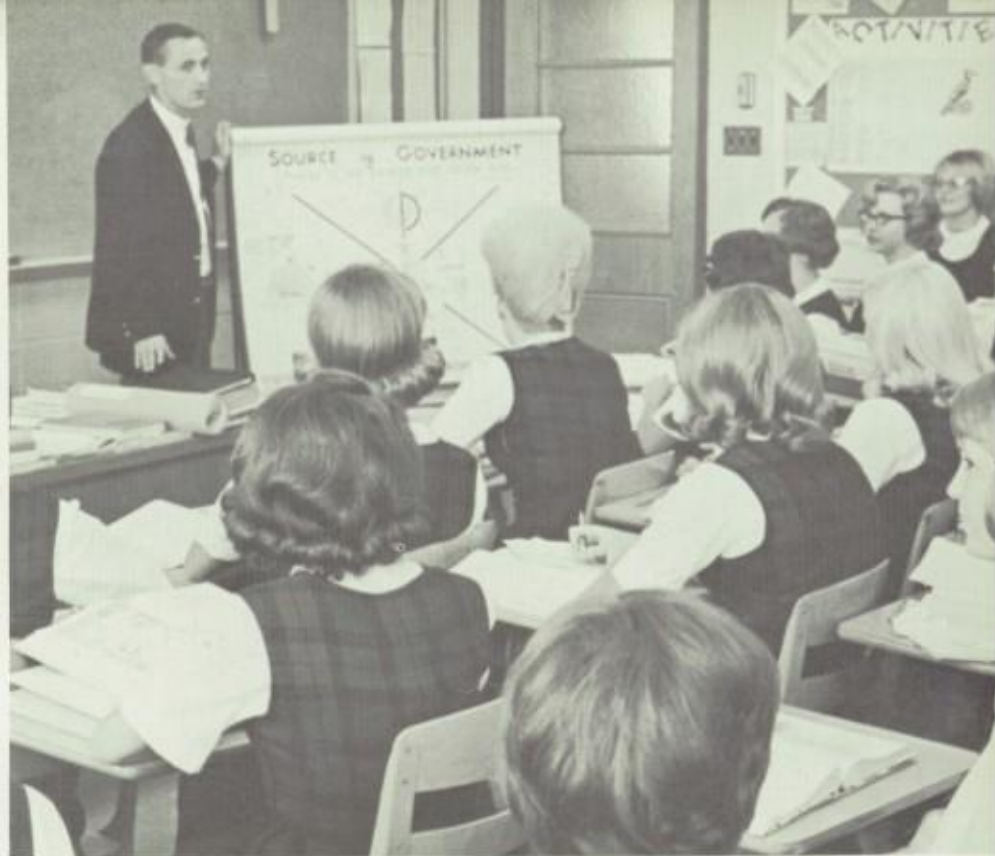

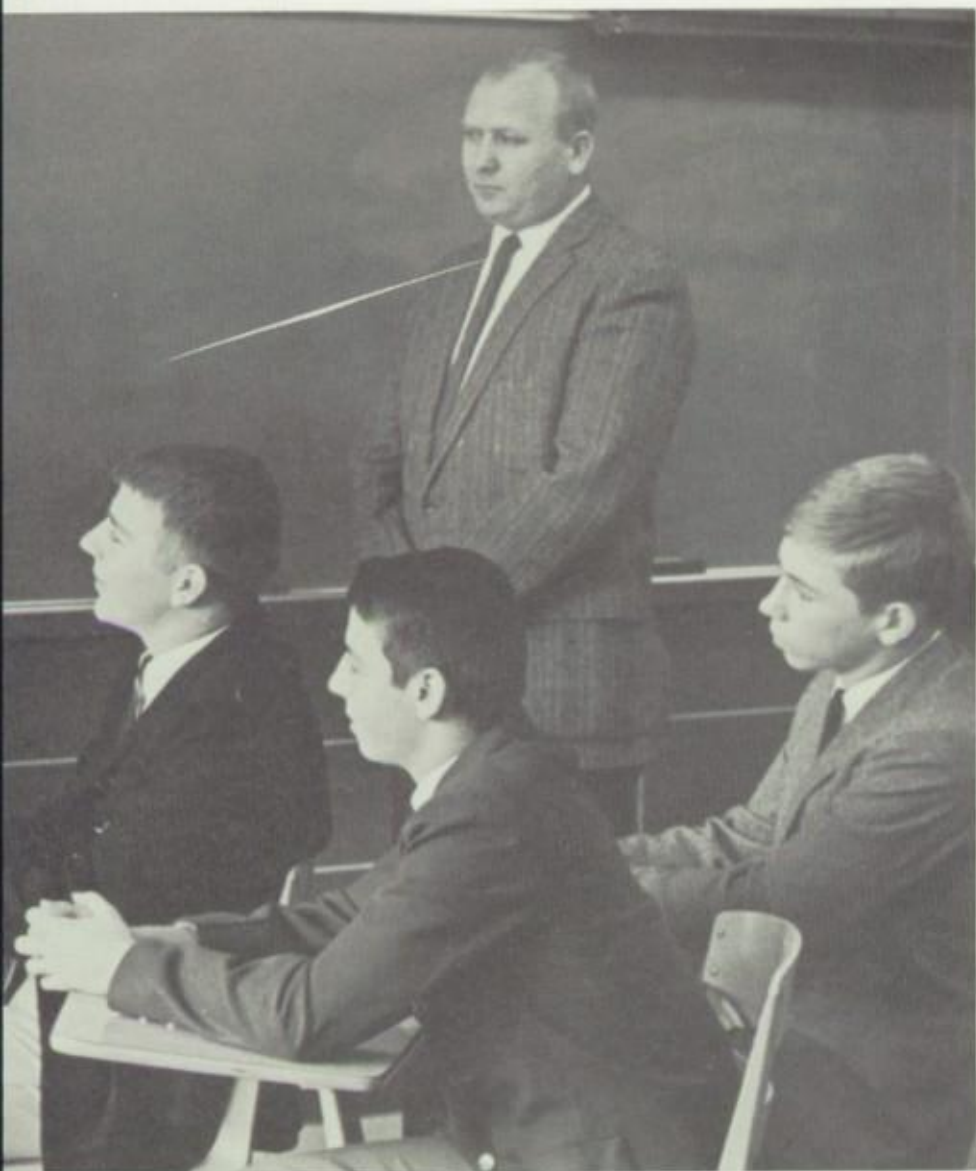

Mr. Donald Altenburger looks inquisitively at his ancient history students: Diane Hoersten, Dale Mesker, Diane Spieles, Lana Spieles, and Lana Kurtz.

In economics class Mr. Daniel Rupert discusses with David Hoehn the average money spent in the United States in a year.

Of Past Experiences

Mr. Donald Altenburger explains the source of governmental power to the senior girls' American government class.

Michael Thitoff indicates the main route on the map to Robert Spieles, Jeffrey Laudick, and James Wegesin as Mr. Edward Zalar gives an eye's approval.

Judith Brickner points out the correct answer on a world geography map to Victoria Cooley.

Seated at a typical stenographer's desk, Jacqueline Klaus aims at the 120 words a minute mark as Cynthia Swick dictates in shorthand II.

Paul Bendele receives personal help from Mr. Edward Zalar as all students may in consumer economics.

Calling all cars, calling all cars- take this in shorthand. Shorthand 1 girls, using earphones to receive faster speed dictation, are Janet Kortokrax, Constance Plumpe, and Doris Wrasman.

Business Classes Challenge

Ronald Huysman points out the steps in preparing an adjusting entry to book-keeping students, Keith Hall, Linda Kill, Donald Huysman; seated are Todd Spieles, Michael Niemeyer, and Charles Osting. In the picture to the right, Donald Huysman gives help to Todd Spieles as brother Ronald looks for approval.

Some of S.J.H.'s office practice students are Sue Gengler, Ann Siefker, Mary Cross, Joyce Holdgreve, and Lois Shumaker. The girls learn how to run and operate the machines.

Ronald Mooney, Norbert Renner, Neal Youngpeter, and Stanley Mueller are learning adding and subtraction techniques on the business machines in clerical record keeping class.

Typing II

In erect positions and eyes on the copy these first and second year typing students work for speed and accuracy. Sister Mary Eventia who teaches the class, has 82 students in Typing I and 32 in Typing II.

Typing I

General Business

Rebecca Pohlman checks for accuracy as Donald Moenter completes a model check in General Business.

Journalism

Journalism class members, Joseph Geddings, Keith Klaus, Roselyn Morris, Elizabeth Fisk, and Louise Wannemacher proofread the articles of the latest issue of The Shield.

Mechanical Drawing

How do we draw this part of the machine? Mechanical drawing students, Thomas Reis, Wayne Baumgarte, and Charles Brinkman look over a machine prior to drawing it and ponder the answer. This subject taught by Sister Mary Rosella, made its reappearance after a lapse of two years.

Home Economics, Skills and Training

Opportunities for developing vocational skills include the home economics courses and the vocational agriculture classes. About 40 boys are transported by bus to Jefferson High each day for a period of vo-ag. These boys also belong to the club, Future Farmers of America (FFA).

St. John's High hopes to equip students enrolling in these vocational courses for a successful future.

Patricia Foley explains the wool industry in Home Arts III and IV, as Jennifer Fuerst and Karen Sanders listen attentively.

Home Arts I students show their skill in canning and labeling their tartar sauce. This is one of the many things they learn in preparing to be future homemakers of tomorrow.

'Vo-Ag' Courses Stress for Future Work

SJH's vocational agriculture boys, Dennis Gerdeman and Robert Spieles placed second and third, respectively in a recently held Future Farmers of America oratorical contest. Harold Ebbskotte, Delphos Jefferson student, was first-place winner.

Mr. Lloyd Smith instructs freshman FFA students, Carl Knippen and Michael Shulte, concerning vocational training for the farm.

Mr. John Crunkilton, vocational agriculture instructor, guides sophomores John Knippen and Robert Spieles with a problem in the grain industry.

Kenneth Hoersten, junior, and Douglas Geise, senior, vocational agriculture students, check the parts which make a tractor tick.

During a physical education class, Theresa Will and Patricia Weinken jump, as Mary Ann Mack and Julie Bruskotter get set to grab the tip-off. Mrs. Bonnie Meyers, phys-ed teacher, is referee.

Mary Ann Mack gets a shot away over the defense of Julie Bruskotter.

Paul Bendele, Richard Best, Patrick Rode, and Vernon Fischer learn correct driving techniques in weekly lessons. They also reduce insurance costs this way. Approximately 40 students took the course this year.

UNDERCLASSMEN

During our years in high school, we mature in body and in mind. We come into contact with many persons, places and events that may help us determine our future. We learn to know the different personalities of our friends.

The knowledge and wisdom that we have attained will always be with us as we go our individual ways toward our destiny — The kingdom of heaven.

Class Rings Symbolize School Spirit

The long awaited moment was reached November 16, 1965, when the members of the junior class received their new St. John's class ring. This ring was adopted one year ago by the present senior class and will continue to be the style for future junior classes.

The ring is a symbol of achievement which brings juniors one step closer to graduation. It symbolizes, too, the student's loyalty to his school.

The rings are gold plated with a blue cut stone as the set. The year of graduation is inscribed on one side; on the opposite side is the St. John's coat of arms.

Roselyn Morris inspects the junior rings with Randall Bohnlein's help.

Activities

Besides the opportunity for academic advancement, St. John's offers us students a challenge to develop a well-rounded personality. It does this through the many activities it sponsors and through these means, it enables us to meet others on a social basis to form our ideals and share them with others.

Homecoming — 1965:

Queen Sarah

The dream of every high school girl comes true for Sarah Clark, 1965 Homecoming Queen, reigning over the "Moonlight and Roses" dance. She is escorted by seniors Glen Lause, Mission Society president and Joseph Schmelzer, Student Council president.

The Court consisted of junior and sophomore attendants and their escorts. Bottom: Terry Schlereth and Kathleen Clark; Timothy Carder and Deborah Klausing; Mary Jane Nomina and William Wiesenberg; Elaine Grubenhoff and James Scherger. Above them are senior attendants and escorts: Gerald Beckman with Kathryn Buettner; and Barbara Metzner with Roger Geise.

Sarah's coronation is completed as Glen Lause and Joseph Schmelzer place the crown on her head.

Queen Sarah is again crowned at the homecoming game, October 8, by co-captains, David Lause and David Hoehn. The Blue Jays wrapped up the event by defeating Carey 47-18.

After the final coronation, Sarah delivered these words of appreciation: "I have seen many girls walk down this field before, but I never dreamed it could ever be me. I would like to thank all those who made this dream come true."

While the crowd looks on, Sarah and surrounding court are seated on a specially prepared platform as they cheer the team to victory. Members of the court not identified are pages David and Mark Clark both of grade two and crown bearer, Mary Clark of grade three.

At a Catholic school religion is taught in the classroom, but it is also taught as a way of life.

These senior acolytes for seven years have served as faithful examples of students serving God.

Standing behind Rev. Joseph I. Schill, Pastor: Row 1, William Neumeier, and Thomas Wulforth; Row 2, Thomas Reis, Anthony Geise, and Joseph Schmelzer; Row 3, Dennis Kimmet, Thomas Raabe, and Todd Spieles; Row 4, Dennis Gerdeman, David Lause, Neal Youngpeter, and Robert Looser.

Retreat Theme: 'Make Someone Happy'

"Man wants to be happy. The key to happiness is to deny yourself, pick up your cross, and follow Christ."

We high school students were given the opportunity to give of ourselves by the new system of retreat this year. After conferences, group discussions were conducted by the students reviewing highlights. Between the discussion periods and conferences, silence was voluntary.

Had we ever thought before:

"He who chooses to be his own spiritual leader, chooses a fool."

"Sincerity is the key to confession."

"Look at myself as God sees me."

"Are my actions better toward my friends than toward my family?"

"Maturity demands that I face reality."

"Are we becoming a race of complainers and self-pitiers?"

"Would I be willing to suffer for my faith?"

"The other day my sister called and said that the kids . . ."
Father Castello, senior and junior speaker, tells one of his stimulating home experiences.

Canada's contributions to "make someone happy" are receiving smiling results from Sharon Pohlman, Harold Flanagan and Patricia Youngpeter.

"He's got the whole world in his hand," demonstrates Father Robert Yeager as Daniel Schleeter, Daniel Moenter, John Pohlman and Father Patrick Costello help lead the hootenanny which closed retreat.

Marching Band Plays at Football

Mr. Robert Slattery, band and concert master.

Precision and school spirit are two of the major functions of the high school band. Spectators can be proud when the band members march to the field with flourish of trumpet, beat of drum, and flying colors for the halftime entertainment of the football games.

Many early morning and late evening hours of practice and concentration are spent before performances, especially before the combined band and glee concert presented in December.

Under the direction of Mr. Robert Slattery the band also participates in various parades, fairs and concerts held throughout neighboring states. The band offers Saint John's students the opportunity to employ their musical talent and participate in a worthwhile function.

With saxophones and flutes, they add feminine touch. Row 1: Loyola Pothast, Nancy Van Pelt, Linda Schrader, Sue Metzger, Vera Kill. Row 2: Sharon Pohlman, Lynn Clark, Arlene Lehmkuhle, Diane Will, Janice Wegesin, Amelia Pothast.

Halftime

Not expressing the total rhythm of the group, these members give their full duty to the position. They are Row 1: Jane Schmit, Sue Heidenescher, Kathleen Miller, Janice Nartker. Row 2: Marjorie Kimmit, Beverly Best, Cynthia Nartker, Glen Buettner, Kathryn Buettner, Dennis Hedrich.

One ability of a majorette must be to smile and keep marching no matter what her personal feelings. First row: Head majorette Karen Hayes. Second row: Kay Westrich, Diana Stallkamp, Vera Kill, Sandra Grubenhoff.

They may be small, but the quality of the march they drum up is large. Our drummers are Jane Bonlein, Sue Stallkamp, Rosemary Sever. Also assisting the band and its identification are Arlene Rode, Elaine Grubenhoff.

Latin Club Sparks Interest In Life of Romans

The Junior Classical League moderated by Sister Mary Bernarda consists of members of the Latin classes. Its purpose is to gain a more thorough knowledge of Roman life, customs and language; to understand better the practical and cultural value of Latin; and to interest fellow students in it.

Here the presiding officers of the St. John's unit, known as "Declinatio Romana", design the bulletin board to inform their fellow students of their projects. The officers are Katherine Buettner, Counsel; Catherine Kaverman, Aedile; Michael Wurst, Pontifex Maximus; and Beverly Best, Praetor.

Besides the bulletin board the JCL keeps an active scrapbook of club activities. This scrapbook, compiled by Catherine Kaverman under the supervision of Sister Mary Valeda, won first prize in a state-wide contest held last spring.

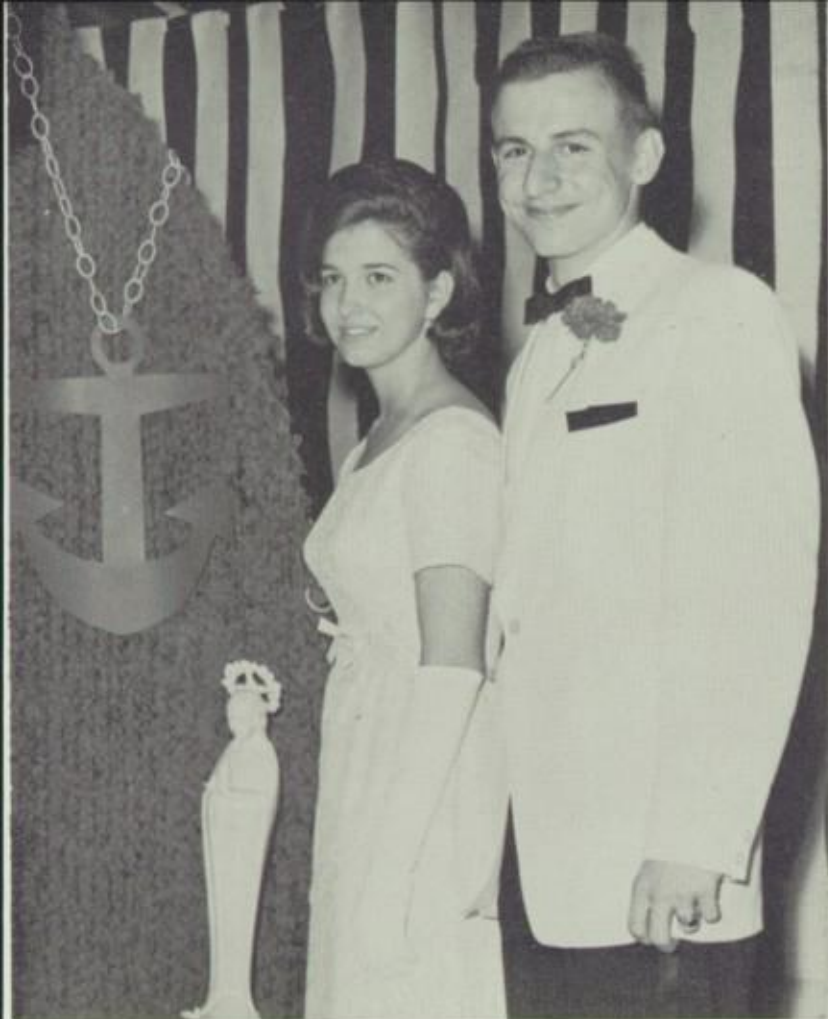

Girls State representatives, Kathryn Buettner and Constance Plumpe (seated) show souvenirs of their experiences to alternates Loyola Pothast and Shirley Leffers.

Daniel Moenter, representing St. John's in Athens during Boys State week as President of Mooney City Council, explains his duties to William Martz, his alternate.

Barbara Metzner and Donald Huysman pause beside the altar at the 1965 Spring Formal, "Bon Voyage."

Spring Formal, College Night, Talent Show. . .

Talent show entry Roselyn Morris re-creates the last pose of her jazz dance.

Enjoying a dance at one of the sock hops, Elaine Grubenhoff and Craig Griffis girate to some of the latest records.

Attending the different sessions of college night last fall, students and parents obtained valuable information.

The vote of students at the talent show selected Vondale Long, John Brinkman, Robert Garza and Charles Osting as first-place winners.

Choral Club Presents Christmas Program

The Choral, under the direction of Mr. Robert Slattery, practices in the early hours of the morning and late hours of the night.

The many practice sessions helped make the Christmas program a grand success.

Musical selections from the program were:

My Rosary
 Santa Claus is Coming to Town
 Christmas Wish
 White Christmas
 Winter Wonderland
 God Bless America
 Heavenly Light
 Golden Slumbers
 Silent Night
 Little Town of Bethlehem
 The First Noel
 We Three Kings
 Jingle Bells

Senior, Junior Members

Senior Class Play Is 'Carousel'

Each year the Senior class display their talents in dramatics. This year "Carousel", a Rogers and Hammerstein production, was chosen.

The story itself originates in ordinary environment, it proceeds realistically, turns into tragedy and then into an unbelievable fantasy. Billy Bigelow, the barker of the town carousel, falls in love and marries the tender, homespun Julie Jordan. Because of the marriage, Billy loses his job, and turns to bullying his wife until learning of his incoming fatherhood (this is the cause for the soliloquy, one of the high spots of the play). Desperately anxious to provide the best for his child, he is persuaded by a shiftless sailor friend, Jigger Craigen, to take part in a hold up. The robbery leads to murder, and in the outcome Billy is killed.

Fifteen years pass, Billy is given a chance to return to earth for twenty-four hours and perform one good deed. Billy accepts the chance and on leaving he steals a star to give upon his meeting his child. Back on earth he finds his daughter sad and lonely. By wishing his appearance to be revealed he offers the star to her but she refuses it. Angered by her refusal he slaps her but, strangely enough the sound is present but she is not hurt. Not knowing him to be her father, she tells her mother the slap felt like a kiss. The child is freed of her unhappiness, and Julie realizes that in spite of everything, she made no mistake.

The major singing leads: Craig Griffis (Billy Bigelow), Russell Suever (Jigger Craigen), Sharon Pohlman (Julie Jordan), and Linda Kill (Carrie Pipperidge) rehearse their singing parts with Joseph Schmelzer, musical accompanist.

Members of the cast sacrifice many hours practicing to produce a successful musical. Here Loyola Pothast (Mrs. Mullin), Joyce Holdgreve (Nettie Fowler) and Dennis Gerdeman (Mr. Bascombe) run through their part so as to develop themselves into the character to perfect the play.

"Practice makes perfect." Practice not only consists of recitation but the portrayal of the individual characters. Here Thomas Raabe (First Policeman) and John Pohlman (Mr. Snow) give an interpretation of their characters.

Twenty-three Seniors, Juniors

Arranging four hundred pictures on nineteen pages is quite a task for the underclass section: Constance Kimmet; Ruth Hageman; Patricia Foley, section head; Joanne Kundert and Jennifer Fuerst.

The photographers play a vital role in the making of a yearbook. Daniel Moenter demonstrates the use of the polaroid camera to his assistant Harold Flanagan while Mr. Lundgren of Kauffman Studio checks his instructions. Mr. Lundgren took the majority of the pictures in the Crest.

Edit Golden Jubilee Yearbook

Figuring the percentage of the pictures in the class section are: John Pohlman; Joyce Holdgreve; Constance Grothouse, section head; and Donald Huysman.

With a variety of topics from homecoming to acolytes, the social section pushes for that final deadline. They are: Jean Helmkamp; Kathleen Menke, section head; Joan Beckmann; Kathleen Flanagan and Mary Jane Pohl.

Merit-Pin Winners

Merit pins are awarded each semester to those who have contributed most in contests and in service.

Still boosting their class spirit, the senior activity point leaders are (seated) Loyola Pothast and Kathryn Buettner, both first-place winners; (standing) Donald Huysman, Michael Pothast, Kathleen Menke, Sandra Grubenhoff, placing second; and Joseph Schmelzer and Gerald Beckman, first.

Sophomores meriting honors for their excellent work in extra curricular activities are Margaret Nomina, Jane Huysman, Taffany Miller; second row: George Beckman, Terry Schlereth, Elaine Grubenhoff, Joseph Scherger, and Randy Miller.

These juniors were awarded merit pins for activities during the first semester. Seated are Alice Klausing and Constance Youngpeter. Standing are John Dickman, Jane Wannemaker, David Warneke, Phyllis Calvelage and Thomas Schlereth. Robert Burger was absent when the picture was taken.

Freshman students who showed their initiative by placing first and second in the merit awarding are (seated) Ann Wurst, Barbara Kundert, and Mary Noonan. Second row: Robert Berres, Jerry Schwinnen, Vivian Kill, Graig McRedmond and Gary Bonifas.

Third-, Fourth-Place:

THIRD PLACE — Seniors: Linda Kill, Daniel Moenter, Constance Plumpe, Thomas Wulfhorst. Juniors: Cynthia Alt, Wayne Baumgarte, Craig Suever, Nancy Van Pelt. Sophomores: Patricia Dickman, Mark Miller, Joseph Myers, Barbara Young. Freshmen: Thomas Buettner, Diane Hoersten, Bonita Osting, Thomas Say.

Sports

The athletic program this year has been filled with vim, vigor and enthusiasm. As a result, we have been rewarded with a winning season in football and basketball.

We would like to express our appreciation to our athletes as well as our coaches. We are all proud of the accomplishments of our teams.

Dave Lause and Dave Hoehn, our co-captains, lead the Jays with spirit and brawn to our first winning season in four years.

Coach Rafferty's First Year Brings Winning Season

The 1965 St. John's Blue Jays football team deserves a lot of praise. This year's team under the direction of Head Coach George Rafferty and assistants Edward Zalar, Daniel Rupert, and Charles Ellis, compiled a 5 and 4 won-and-lost record. It was Coach Rafferty's first year here.

Led by captains David Hoehn and David Lause, the Jays played rough and hard, but clean, and conducted themselves as fitting representatives of St. John's. In closing the record books for this 1965 football season, the entire student body applauds the team that racked up the best year since 1962.

Next year's prospects are bright, with nine lettermen coming back.

Head Coach George Rafferty relates last minute playing instructions to Rog Neumeier, John Odenweller, Dick Hayes and Chuck Brinkman.

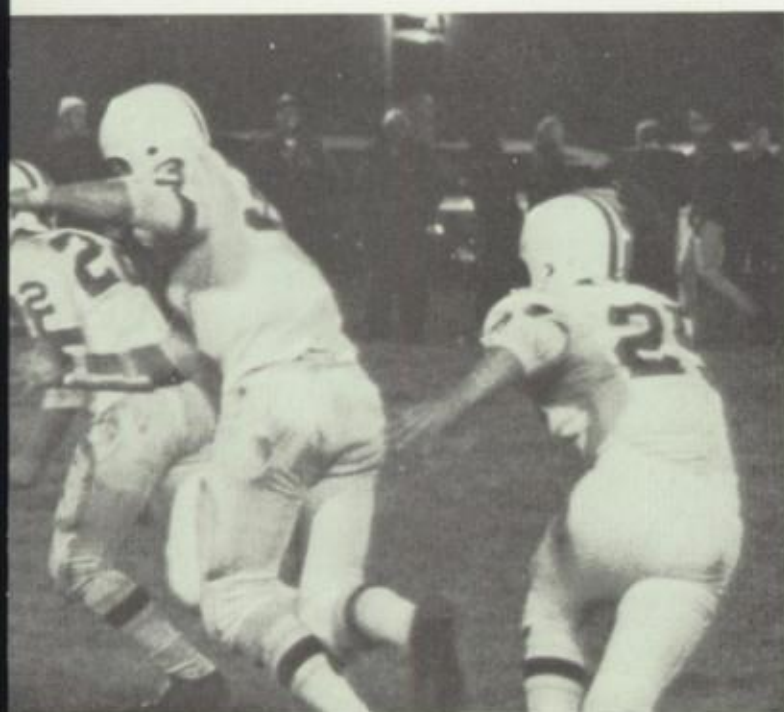

Dan Klausing hands off to Dave Hoehn as he races around end for good yardage. Mike Will and Bill Fetzer provide blocking.

Bill Fetzter grabs a bullet pass in the Parkway game.

Klausing, faking a dive to Charlie Brinkman, runs around the left end for valuable yardage during the Fostoria St. Wendelin game as the referee watches.

Six more reasons for the successful season-six loyal young ladies who led cheers and planned pep assemblies: Front: Pat Osting, Phyllis Kill, Kathy Johnson. Back: Jo Ann Powell, Kathy Flanagan, and Joanne Kundert.

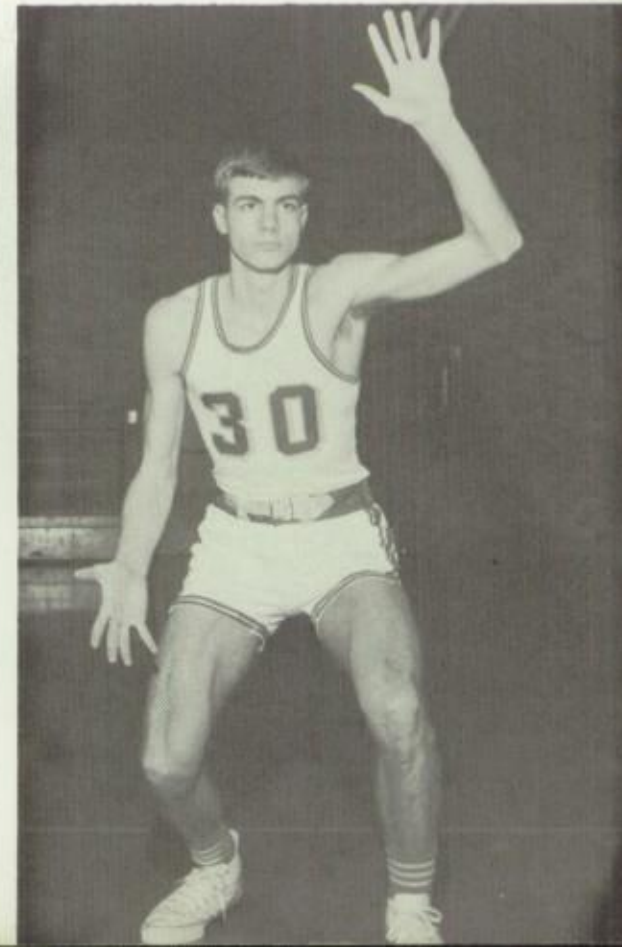

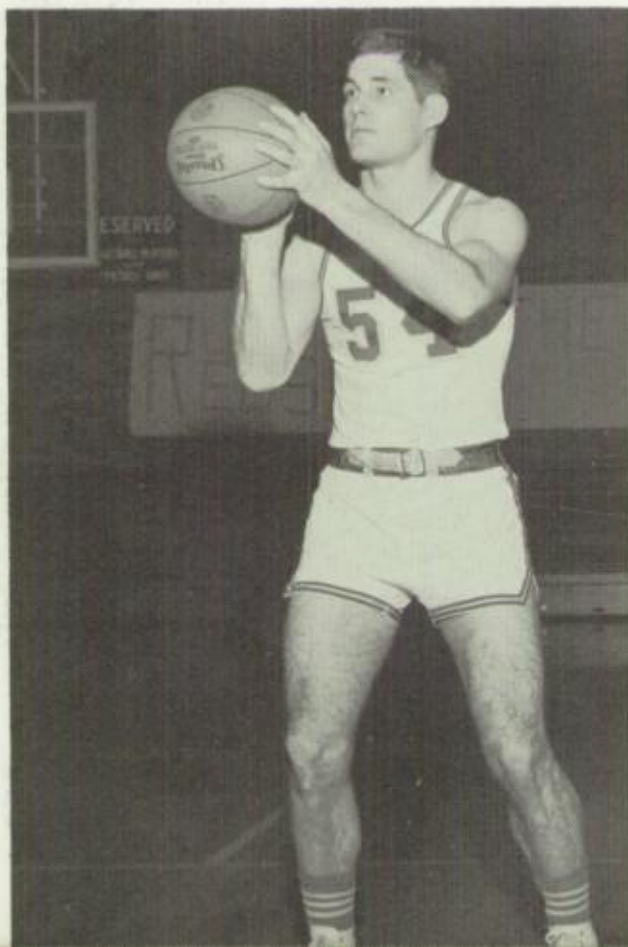

The 1965-66 Jays is a team to remember. When the chips were down the Jays were up. First row: Dave Hoehn, Chuck Osting, Joe Geddings, Glen Kill. Second row: the Rev. Robert J. Yeager, Gary Huysman, Coach Robert Arnzen. Third row: Bob Spieles, Tim Carter, Butch Ulrich, Craig Suever. Fourth row: Tom Wulfhorst, Mike Clark, Ron Huysman, and Bill Wiesenbergh.
